U. S. INTERVENTION IN MINE STRIKE IF GENERAL LOOMS AS NEAR A CERTAINTY

Plans Looking Toward Federal Operation Of Coal Mines Formulated

FAILURE SEEN FOR DAVIS PEACE MOVE

Arbitration Will Be Asked In Effort To Prevent Threatened Tie-Up

(International News Service.) DAYTONA, Fla., March 11—Federal intervention in the event of a general coal strike is being considered by high officials of the administration.

Plans looking toward operation of the coal mines as a last resort already have been formulated.

They awaited the gesture from President Harding to render them operative. High officials of the presidential party do not anticipate that the attempt of Secretary of Labor Davis to cause a meeting of scale committees and operators will be fruitful.

The next step is a proposal for arbitration, through a commission appointed by the President, numbering among its members both miners and operators, and a chairman of the President's selection.

President Harding's action, should arbitration be refused, probably will be governed by subsequent developments. However, close advisers will urge him strongly to take control of the mining industry if this step is necessary to keep the people warm and industries running.

The administration also will consider the advisability of applying for an injunction if the strike assumes serious proportions. The first consideration will be to keep the railroads running, after that will come fuel for municipal heat and light and then basic industries.

No comment was issued from the President's party regarding the result of the strike vote of the miners organization.

Saturday Busy Day Reporter Finds On Courthouse Visit

Saturday evening is not always a holiday at the courthouse. This was no exception to the rule when on Saturday afternoon a Daily reporter dropped in on the amiable gentlemen who compose the custodians of the county's legal matters, and found them all busy. Judge Troup, John Green, Miss Transue and the other attaches of the office were each busy in their respective spheres, seemingly having no mind on the fact that it was Saturday evening.

Tax Assessor Troup and his assistant, J. M. Maxwell were busy checking assessments and posting same to the lot and land books. It was pointed out by these gentlemen that the assessments cannot be written up on the assessment books until passed on by the tax adjuster. They report ready.

Tax Collector J. H. Hill and deputy Collector Frank J. Davis were both busily engaged in sending gentle reminders to delinquents that their state and county tax was very much due and unpaid.

Chief clerk Clyde Sharpe of the sheriff's office was resting on his oars, having completed all the business in hand and reported ready for the two weeks of the Morgan county court which opens Monday morning.

Circuit Clerk J. L. Draper was busy getting out subpoenas for the term of the circuit court which convenes for a two weeks session on Monday, April 2d.

Register Marvin West has been busily engaged for the past two weeks having an unusual large amount of transcribing to do in his department. Everything was reported ready for the court which opens Monday morning.

5 GENERATIONS PRESENT AS BABY BORN TO PARENTS AT AUSTINVILLE, GREAT GREAT GRANDMOTHER 74 YEARS OF AGE

William Lewis Denby, born March 5, at the home of his parents in Austinville, already has a record few of his elders have ever enjoyed. The "reception committee" of relations which cordially greeted the latest member of the Denby family included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Denby; his grandfather, J. Lee Denby; his great grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Denby; his great, great grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Harris. The latter is only 74 years of age, adding quite a bit of additional lustre to the already unusual family record.

Five generations in one picture. Local people who are familiar with the family record are wondering where else in all creation you would find them living in the same community, but they are wondering also where else you could find a great, great grandmother at 74 years of age.

MORGAN COUNTY JAIL SCORED BY STATE INSPECTOR

Morgan county's jail is in a very unsatisfactory condition according to a report of the state prison inspection department to Governor Kilby Saturday, declared a dispatch received by The Daily from its Montgomery Bureau Saturday night.

The building was found to be cold and insanitary, the plumbing bad, the window panes broken, bedding soiled and prisoners lacking in eats and discipline, the report added.

"The prisoners complained of their food and treatment," said the report. "The premises surrounding the jail and basement were very unsatisfactory."

SENTENCED FOR MAIL THEFT HERE

(International News Service.) BIRMINGHAM, March 11.—D. W. Lockmiller, of Huntsville, was sentenced to five years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta today by Judge William I. Grubb, in the United States district court, on a charge of robbing mail bags of $25,000 worth of checks.

Lockmiller is said to have confessed to the theft. He is reported to have walked into the office of T. C. Gobbs, postoffice inspector, and handed over the checks with the declaration that he robbed two mail bags at Decatur and Atlanta and desired to confess.

Convicted Of Fraud In Tax Returns

BIRMINGHAM, March 11.—Fraudulent income tax returns caused the imprisonment today of J. N. Yakakes, N. M. Waters and I. E. Langford, officers of the Ensley Transfer and Supply company, who were given sentences of from 30 to 60 days in jail by Judge Grubb, of the United States district court. It was alleged by the government that actual net profits of the concern for 1920 were $16,000, while the returns made by the company showed profits of only $8,000. After an investigation of more than a year the government preferred the charges.

Company officials pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to defraud the government.

Human Fly To Scale Sides Of Johnson Building

O'Neil, "The Human Fly," has been granted permission to attempt to scale the sides of the Johnson building, corner of Grant street and Second avenue, Monday, he announced Saturday. The performance will begin at 1:30 o'clock, he stated.

UNDERWOOD RISES TO THE DEFENSE OF FOUR-POWER PACT

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, March 11.—Not the scrapping of battleships nor the naval treaty decreed by the armament conference, but the four-power treaty constitutes the real guarantee of the peace of the world, Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader of the senate, and a member of the American arms delegation, declared today in his defense of the pact.

"The naval treaty is remarkable in that for the first time in the history of the world, nations have really agreed to limit their armaments, but nevertheless their relative strength remains the same. The four-power treaty is one that stands for peace by mutual understanding and all that peace means," Underwood said.

Underwood's statement that the real accomplishment of the conference was not a material reduction in armament, but the Pacific treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan, which was intended as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, was made in the course of a prepared speech by him in reply to the storm of opposition that the four-power pact is encountering from his Democratic colleagues.

Underwood declared that the treaty "is not an alliance," but if it were an alliance intended to keep the peace through arbitration rather than through force, he would support it. "If the senate ratifies it I am satisfied there will disappear not only any real cause for war, but there will cease to exist any opportunity for war that has threatened us for the past two decades and peace will be established between the four great sea powers that now control the destinies of the Pacific ocean," Underwood said.

HUGHES REPLIES

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Secretary of State Hughes injected himself into the treaty fight in the senate today by writing a lengthy letter to Senator Underwood, in which he scored the thinly veiled intimation made in the senate that the American delegates "were imposed upon" in making the four-power pact.

Such intimation, Hughes declared vigorously, constitutes a "reflection" on the American delegates. Failure of the senate to ratify the treaty, Hughes declared, would be "nothing short of a national calamity."

33 Candidates In County Qualify

The political pot of the county continues to boil, and there is yet time to get into the fun. Seventeen days yet remain in which to qualify under the laws governing the filing of declarations of intentions. There are 33 candidates filing declarations of intentions so far. Included in this number is one congressman.

SCORES ARE SLAIN IN MINE CLASHES ALONG THE RAND; STRIKERS ARMED

Eighty Persons Killed In Fighting Friday With Soldiers And Police

ASSUMES ASPECT OF A "REGULAR WAR"

Heavily Armed Strikers Are Scrapping With The Military Contingents

JOHANNESBURG, Union of South Africa, March 11.—Eighty persons were killed and 520 wounded in fighting between striking miners and police on Friday, it was announced by the police tonight.

Eighteen were killed and 25 wounded at Benoni, when a detachment of the Transvaal-Scottish troops were ambushed by strikers concealed in mine houses.

"WAR" IS RAGING

LONDON, March 11.—Regular war is raging on the Rand in South Africa between striking miners on one side and soldiers and police on the other, according to advices received here tonight from Capetown. More than 110 men have been killed in two days in the mine fields and more than 700 were wounded.

The strikers, heavily armed, are giving battle to the soldiers at numerous places. Premier Smuts is on his way to Johannesburg to direct, personally, the operations of the troops.

The strikers are attempting to tie up every branch of industry.

CONGRESS IN PANIC OVER BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Congress was in a panic tonight over the soldier bonus legislation.

The condition of chaos has been produced by the apparently authentic statement from St. Augustine, Fla., that President Harding will veto the bonus bill if it is passed as now framed by the Republican members of the house ways and means committee.

The bonus legislative situation has complicated a badly mixed political condition for the Republicans. They are in a position of "be damned if they do and be damned if they don't."

Their voting constituents are demanding the bonus. The banking interests, the administration and the President apparently are fighting it.

In their befuddled condition tonight they apparently are determined to go ahead with it. Chairman Fordney stated the committee will meet Monday and he expects the bonus bill to be reported out.

Bailey Named Tax Adjuster Of The County

Eugene Bailey, of Decatur, Saturday late was appointed tax adjuster of Morgan county, according to a wire received from The Daily's Montgomery Bureau. Mr. Bailey will succeed D. M. Lynne, resigned.

The office pays a salary of $5,000 a year. Mr. Bailey is a well known Decatur resident and his friends are congratulating him upon his appointment from a field of several applicants.

Princess Hassan To Be Object Of $2,500,000 Suit

Princess Hassan Intl. N.Y.

A demand of $2,500,000 for legal services in securing half of $10,000,000 from the estate of the late Prince Hassan for his American wife, formerly Olga Humphrey, well-known actress, has been made by Herman L. Roth, New York theatrical lawyer. Roth was engaged to secure a divorce for the Princess, he says, and employed high-priced Paris lawyers to aim him. But the Princess died before the divorce was granted. Princess Hassan, who had returned to America, still was his legal wife. She inherited $5,000,000, half of the estate left by Prince Hassan. Charging that the Princess Hassan agreed to split "fifty-fifty" with him any money realized from court actions against the Prince, Roth brought suit. Princess Hassan resides in California.

DISORDERS FEARED IN INDIA; GHANDI IS PUT UNDER ARREST

(International News Service.)

LONDON, March 11.—The government, fearing disorders in India, following the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the non-co-operationists, today ordered that the Indian government take full precautions to preserve peace.

Prior to his arrest Gandhi urged his followers to remain quiet, but carry on his program of peaceful resistance. The India office has been instructed to try Gandhi at the earliest possible moment on the general charge of sedition.

WILL NOT HALT PLANS

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The arrest of Gandhi, the Indian non-co-operationist leader, by the British will result in the outbreak of the long smouldering rebellion in India, it was predicted here today by Sallendra Ghose, head of the Indian self-government mission in this country.

"The arrest of Gandhi will be followed immediately by a general stoppage of all business and will include a strike of all employees of the British," Ghose said. The arrest of Gandhi will not handicap the march of India toward self government, he declared.

Nationalist leaders completed plans many months ago, he said, for "carrying on" without their leader.

RUSSELLVILLE HAS A MILLION DOLLAR ASPHALT CONCERN

The announcement from Russellville of the formation there of a $1,000,000 industry, to develop the asphalt of that section, bears out the idea expressed by many in this county, stories of which have been carried in The Daily from time to time, that it is the purpose of the company to establish a manufacturing station in this county also.

The asphalt deposit extends from southeast to northwest, taking in the counties of Morgan, Lawrence and Franklin. It has been known for some time that capitalists have been busy getting options on land where asphalt is known to exist in this county, and that core drills are being used to locate and determine the richness of the strata. The company located at Russellville is known as the Muscle Shoals Rock Asphalt company, incorporated under the laws of the state of Alabama.

The presence here and elsewhere in the county of Col. C. E. Dexter, president of the company, with others associated with him in the enterprise, gives further color to the report that they will also establish a station in this county, options having already been secured on valuable lands here and elsewhere in this district. It is said that the rock asphalt existing here is as rich in asphalt as any found at any other place in the Tennessee Valley.

That the announcement is confidently expected to be made here in the near future of a like industry located in this county is freely predicted, with a measurable degree of certainty.

Aside from the value as a money product it will yield, it will prove a solution of the road building projects that will be launched in the district, when the state roads get under way of construction, it is said.

STATE GETS BEHIND PEOPLE'S CHOICE TO GET SHOALS PLANT; O'NEAL WILL SPEAK

Former Alabama Governor Said To Be Armed "With New Facts"

MELLON-DAUGHERTY TESTIMONY SOUGHT

Government Officials Will Be Called To Testify Before Committee

(International News Service.)

ATLANTA, March 11.—Former Governor Emmet O'Neal, of Alabama, declared on his arrival here tonight to address a mass meeting of Georgians, who will gather tomorrow to further Henry Ford's efforts to obtain Muscle Shoals, that an attempt will be made to have Governor Kilby call the Alabama legislature in special session to consider legislation that will eliminate the Alabama Power company as a rival bidder.

"The legislation," he asserted, "under plans of its sponsors would deprive the Alabama Power company of special privileges it now enjoys in exemption from payment of state taxes. The company will be told by friends of the Detroit manufacturer that it can either renounce its claims to an option on the plants or lose its favored position in the matter of taxes," O'Neal declared.

ATLANTA, March 11.—Atlanta and Georgia will go firmly behind Henry Ford as their favorite in the struggle for the government water-power and nitrate plant project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., when a mass meeting is held at the auditorium here tomorrow afternoon.

The hugeness of the Muscle Shoals project and what it means to the South were typified tonight by Mayor Key, of Atlanta, when he said, commenting on the meeting, that it will be one of the greatest ever proposed for the welfare of the south.

Much interest is being attached to the presence of former Governor Emmett O'Neal, of Alabama, who made the principal address at a recent similar meeting held in Montgomery. He will be the principal speaker at Atlanta's demonstration also.

A representative committee of Atlantans greeted the former Alabama governor tonight on his arrival from Birmingham. Indications tonight were, according to reports, that Mr. O'Neal will be prepared to lay some thing new in the way of plans for action in Ford's favor before the mass meeting.

Mr. O'Neal, recognized as a guiding spirit among those favorable to the Ford offer, is understood to be working in close harmony with those who are said to be bringing pressure on Governor Kilby to call a special session of the Alabama legislature.

Tomorrow's meeting, while only a preliminary, will pave the way for Georgia's greater demonstration. A date will be set for a state-wide meeting, to be held a few weeks later.

EFFORTS RENEWED

BIRMINGHAM, March 11.—Renewed efforts by the forces backing Henry Ford in his offer for the Muscle Shoals property are promised by Emmett O'Neal, former governor of Alabama and recognized leader for Ford, who left for Atlanta Saturday to address a mass meeting in that city Sunday afternoon.

Mr. O'Neal is armed with new facts and figures which are expected to throw a bombshell into the camp of the Alabama Power company forces, opposing bidders for the waterpower project.

Following his speech 10 days ago at a state mass meeting in Montgomery, O'Neal has delved into every phase of the controversy now raging about Muscle Shoals and announced today he is ready to renew the offensive along new and startling lines.

Ways and means of helping Ford and eliminating the Alabama Power project.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

The tip of the tongue of slander is painted with the most venomous poison.

If all was gold that glitters, a tin dish pan would bring a fabulous price.

When every thing is fine sailing an harbor is of little consequence; but, when the storms come an harbor of safety is the first thought.

Don't climb the hills before you reach them. You may be sure there will be plenty of them, and that they will be steep. To climb them before reaching them is but to waste the strength that should be saved for the real hills along the road of life.

March 21st Spring begins. March 21st is designated as Arbor Day. At this time nothing of a more character can be done than to plant trees, having of course appropriate exercises attending the planting. Trees have always stood as living memorials to a given period, and certainly now when trees are being destroyed with such seeming wanton destruction, it is a good time to plant more trees. The spirit of the occasion lives with the trees, and they furnish a living example of the thought which gave them life and a place. Encourage the planting of trees on Arbor day. Others in the years that lie out before will reap the blessings accruing from such a course, and they will be a living memorial to those who thus planned and put into execution.

The secret truths of nature are heard and recognized in the gurgling brooks that wind their way down the mountainsides. The song of the wind carries the message as it fans the boughs of the trees. The whispering of the leaves tells the story. Massive formation of rocks that rise promontory high are silent witnesses to the fact. The majestic rivers that silently flow with an irresistible force carry the story. The Father of Waters, hoarse with the four thousand years of carrying the story, mingles his voice with the mighty chorus as he wends his way to the ocean home—the whole is the scheme of nature in perpetuating and carrying forward the silent but effective spirit of the God of Nature as expressed in the every day faithful performance of the duties entrusted to them.

THE PATHFINDERS ARE DUE CREDIT FOR ALL PROGRESS.

To the pathfinders is the world indebted for all the improvement and inventions of the age. Those who are willing to dare, to search out and discover. They who are willing to continue to travel the beaten paths never invent, discover, or bring any new thing of a lasting character into being.

Those who leave the beaten paths and go along the uncharted ways are they who bring to the world new blessings. Without them, the world would be a stupid place indeed. Privations and suffering have been endured by those who were interested in discovering. Lives have been sacrificed that others might be blessed.

The late Dr. William C. Gorgas an Alabamian, was a pathfinder in the truest sense. Going to the tropical countries where death stalked abroad he instituted means and measures which has saved countless thousands. He took a chance that others might be well and live through his efforts. This is the mission of the pathfinder; they are not all dead.

FISHING TIME IS HERE.

These balmy days call to mind the leafy banks of the native creeks where trout abound, and where the angler strays almost daily. The sunshine reflects in the mirrored waters below the leafy boughs above, and mirrors in the depths below.

Fishing time is a great time. It is a period of the very finest relaxation both for mind and body. It takes one to the quietude of the woodlands, where the orchestra of the wood delights the ear, and the soul responds perfectly attuned to all it hears. In the quietude of the waters below one gazes, and the dreams of a summer day come thick and fast. Lulled by a good meal right after the noon hour, the entrancing effect is so great eyelids drop, and the senses are benumbed as one hies away to slumberland for a short time, spread out on the green sod beneath a friendly beech tree.

If one is worn out and tired with the dull routine of everyday life, go out to where the sun shoots his rays down through the branches of a leafy tree into the gurgling waters at your feet. Take a short journey to the haunts of nature; drink in the ever changing scene; breathe deep the breath from the woodland recesses, and go back stronger for the tasks that await, with a merry in the eye and more joys in the heart.

CERTAINLY WOMEN WILL RULE THE WORLD, THEY ALREADY DO

The statement that women are to rule the world in the not very far distant future will come no surprise to most men. It has been realized by more men for many years that women really have been running things all along, though they do not appear on the payroll always as the actual workers. Gradually the women are moving forward in world affairs and each year finds them nearer actual control than before.

According to Prof. Powers, of the University of California, women will be actually and openly running the world by 1977 and men then will be doing the housework and looking after the children. Probably the men by that time also will have usurped women's prerogative to gossip, and will be exchanging neighborhood news, views and gossip over the back-yard fence, much after the manner of women of today.

The Tuscaloosa News agrees with the California professor and prophet, but thinks he may have set the date for woman's rule a little too early. The Tuscaloosa paper says that Chaucer, five centuries ago, revealed that what woman craves more than anything else in the world is power, and she certainly seems to be accumulating it now more rapidly than ever before. Prof. Powers sees her stimulated to all sorts of activities, "courted in business and politics, and rapidly entrencing herself, as the dominant sex." "It is her manifest destiny," he says "to rule the world and that destiny is working itself out in a swift development."

The News adds: "As a matter of fact, women always have been 'dominant,' though not exactly in the sense intended by Prof. Powers, and doubtless they will continue to be so. Nature sees to it. Mothers do rule the world, through their sons, to whom in the wise see-saw of life, they give more of themselves than the fathers do."

Women, Southern women especially, may not wish to "run things" after the manner indicated by Prof. Powers, but they certainly will continue to "run things" as they have been doing all along. This they do in a manner that cannot be disputed. Nor would man care to interfere. It is best for men, for the world and for the women themselves that the women should be dictators of world affairs. They will not wield power by force, but they will and do wield power through the mighty influence of love and although their laws are enforced with gentleness, in the long run they are enforced, for men like to be "bossed" by women and will not permit it to be otherwise.

Ruling the world after this fashion will be no new thing for women, and it probably is the way they will rule it for all time.—Anniston Star.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair

How many who are fond of assigning reasons for things, have ever considered why all of us are found impersonating all the big powerful things with which we come in contact? We impersonate the great mogul engines, that race across the continent with their mighty loads of freight. We place them in the masculine gender. And any kind of a machine, especially if it gives trouble, we impersonate it often referring to it as having a devilish personality! Shakespeare speaks of the morn as if it were a woman, saying "The morn, in ivy mantle clad, walks o're the top of yon high Eastern hill." We speak of the Sun, as masculine and the moon as feminine. That wonderful invention—the ship—a form of which saved Noah and his family from the flood—we impersonate in the feminine gender. We speak of nations as if they were women—Columbia representing America. The living church, is referred to by Christ Himself as a person—as a bride. Why is it the great things are impersonated? In a word, because instinctively we wish to give great things the largest possible significance. And PERSONALITY is the greatest force we ever have or ever will meet whether in this or the life to come. We make it the measure and definition in all great conceptions. Because the conception of personality will be maintained at all costs there is no danger of common minded common sense people ever getting away from belief in God as a person and as a father, despite the efforts of some who have active minds, to make God a great force or a great Principle. And on the same ground free thinkers, will never give up the belief that Christ was and is a Person; and that we are accountable to Him as persons. A glance at history will show you the over mastering place PERSONALITY has always held. Abraham's personal power drew his wayward nephew, Lot, back to the right way, after long years in wicked Sodom. Hebrew Joseph's personality at first aroused the anger and jealousy of his brethren, but later placed him over the entire Egyptian nation. Moses made Pharaoh quail before his lordly eye. David's personality in his early life was so beautiful that he won the love of all with whom he came in contact. The Prophet Daniel was promoted by a heathen King, "because of the spirit (the personality) that was in him."

It was the greatness if not goodness of their personalities that enabled Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon and their kind to lead great multitudes to glory or the grave. It is Henry Ford's personality backed by a great army of working men, that makes him both loved and feared. In the present controversy over Muscle Shoals, not so called "moral" and prior rights—but Henry Ford's personality is the real issue.

As a gift is dead, without its giver, so is and contract to develop Muscle Shoals futile, without a great personality behind it.

Mr. Ford is a great personality because he is free, and has not been separated from his kind by shrewd slick dealings and a selfishness and gross sins. Ford is much more than an artificer, who can build dams and transmit power. He is believed at least, to be a great personality—a veritable "father in Israel." All great personalities, prove their right to that designation by their appreciation of the infinite value and possibilities of other personalities. As Christ Himself proved His divinity by His infinite love and appreciation —even for little children who in His time on earth were despised, even by His disciples, so have Christ's followers, ever and always had a right conception of the value and dignity of other people. If you wish to know whether you have or are in the way of possessing a great personality, see if you rightly value human personality?

If that badge of divine decent is unrecognized by you, seek to get such spiritual lens set to your eyes as may enable you to see the divine possibilities in every personality.

POEM

I know a man who smokes cigarettes so often
If every cigarette makes a nail in his coffin,
The angels are shouting this very minute,
That very soon they'll have him in it.

Vacant Laps

"Marriage means to have and to hold. But some men are queer about their wives."
"How's that?"
"After they have 'em they seldom hold 'em on their laps."

Crowding the Quarters

"We feel crowded in this flat," said the tenant, diffidently.
"No wonder!" exclaimed the janitor.
"This flat was never intended for a family of six."

"But there are only myself and my wife."
"I know better. Besides you two there are three goldfishes and a canary bird."

Any After Dinner Speech

Well, those were my feelings, exactly, only mine, I may say, were even more so. There is an old legend

If I have made my position plain to you, the anecdote has served its purpose, and there but remains for me to say, in the apt and well-chosen words of your honored president,

What to Do when Your Office Building Blows Over

When are building begins to totter,
If your office is on the top floor, step into the hall and say "Going Down."
On the way down notify the agent

Compressed Air Saves Man's Life.

Compressed air saved the life of Torres Olson, a diver, when he was seized with the "bends," caused by working deep under water. Olson was rushed to the Brooklyn Navy Yard and placed in the tank pictured here.
Paralysis in Olson's legs was relieved when the tank was filled with compressed air. The diver is shown here looking out of the air tank which saved his life.

VALOR OF SOLDIER IS HIGHLY PRAISED

The following resolutions were adopted by the Knights of Pythias on the occasion of the return of the body of Isaac Wohl, American soldier, who died in a hospital in France of wounds received in action over there:

Hermione Lodge Number 15 Knights of Pythias takes occasion at this time to spread upon the minutes a tribute to our friend and brother, Isaac Wohl.

This fine young man, a resident of Decatur, and an honored member of this lodge; answered the call of our country in the great world war. He made the supreme sacrifice to patriotism, dying on the field of battle that others might live and enjoy the blessings of liberty and peace.

Now his lifeless body after resting three years in a foreign land, is brought home and buried among the people who knew and loved him. We cherish the memory of Knight Wohl, who exemplified in peace and war the principles of friendship, charity and benevolence.

We commend his bereaved relations to the Father who knoweth and pitieth
His children.

Rev. Spiegel Pays Visit To The Daily

Rev. J. E. Spiegel, who is conducting a series of services at the First Christian church, Albany, gave The Daily office a call Saturday. "Ed", as he is still known by his former Morgan county boyhood friends, has developed into a big preacher, having held many pastorates in his home state and Mississippi.

Rev. Spiegel was reared in Morgan county and, like every other fellow, loves to come back to the scenes of his boyhood days and linger awhile.

WOULD NOT TAKE $1000 FOR GOOD RECEIVED

Patsburg, Ala.
Mr. A. A. Poindexter,
Richland, Ga.

Dear Sir:—
I would not take $1,000 for what six bottles of Poindexter's Tonic did for me. I was near a skeleton when I first started your medicine. Now
I am 50 pounds heavier than then.
We have a store and I bought one dozen bottles from you. Since then I have bought and sold a great many dozen bottles.

Yours very truly,
MISS PEARL RHODES.

Your money back if one-half bottle fails to benefit you. Successfully used

SATURDAY CLUB

HEARS ATTORNEY.

Mrs. E. F. Baird was hostess to the Saturday club yesterday afternoon. S. A. Lynne, prominent attorney, addressed the club on the "Industrial Revolution and Its Significance." Upon special request the speaker also gave an extemporaneous address on the workings of the legislature. At the conclusion of the business session the hostess served a salad course and coffee.

Mrs. O. D. Carney, of Greenbrier, was here on business Saturday.

Mrs. Joe Bell continues ill at her home on Fourth Avenue South.

Mrs. Benton Hatchett is spending the week-end in Prospect, Tenn.

Mrs. Leppard is improving after a month's illness following an operation.

BRIDGE PARTY COMPLETING MRS. ALEXANDER.

Mrs. O. C. Parker, assisted by Miss Mabel Parker and Mrs. John Garrison, was hostess at a bridge party Saturday afternoon at her home on Gordon Drive, in compliment to Mrs. T. H. Alexander, who leaves soon to make her home in Nashville, Tenn., this being the last of a number of social functions that have been given for the honoree. The home was very attractive with cut flowers.

Those enjoying the hospitality with the honoree were: Mrs. J. M. Pettay, Mrs. Tennis Tidwell, Mrs. Wallace Carson, Mrs. F. P. Lide, Mrs. H. Greer, Mrs. A. A. Hardage, Mrs. Earl Calvin, Mrs. L. McEntire, Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. R. C. Billings, Mrs. W. C. Bailey, Mrs. C. L. Saunders, Mrs. H. R. Davis, Mrs. John Garrison, Mrs. R. H. Wolcott, Mrs. R. T. Sheppard, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Mrs. B. E. Preuit, Miss Marjorie Miller and Mrs. D. C. Almon, joining them for refreshments. After a number of games of bridge, Mrs. L. McEntire was awarded prize, a decorated basket, for high score, and Mrs. Tennis Tidwell cut the consolation, a box of face powder. The honoree was presented a vanity box. After the game a delicious salad course was served.

Mrs. J. R. Thomas continues ill at her home on Church street.

Mrs. C. J. O'Bryant and Mrs. C. O. Foote spent Thursday in Birmingham.

Miss Eula Nelson is spending the week-end with Miss Hortense Fischer in Columbia, Tenn.

MRS. ALEXANDER HONORED.

The charter members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club were joint hostesses Friday afternoon when they gave a bridge party for Mrs. T. H. Alexander, who will leave Monday for Nashville to make her home.

Bridge was played at three tables at the attractive home of Mrs. C. L. Saunders on Grant street, which made bright with spring flowers. On the count for top score, it was found that Mrs. Frank Lide won the prize. Mrs. Alexander received a remembrance of the afternoon.

After the game, the party motored to the Barbicue Cafe where a course luncheon was served, places being laid for the following: Mrs. T. H. Alexander, Mrs. C. L. Saunders, Mrs. Roy Jones, Mrs. R. C. Billings, Mrs. W. C. Bailey, Mrs. C. L. Saunders, Mrs. H. R. Davis, Mrs. John Garrison, Mrs. R. H. Wolcott, Mrs. R. T. Sheppard, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Mrs. B. E. Preuit, Miss Marjorie Miller and Mrs. D. C. Almon, joining them for refreshments. Mrs. Robert Sheppard and Miss Marjorie Miller.

For this occasion, Mrs. Alexander wore a grey canton crepe dress with blue and grey accessories and a blue duvetyn cape.

FERRY STREET

ROOK CLUB.

The Ferry Street Rook club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. T. M. Jones, Sr., at her home on Ferry street. The home was decorated for the occasion with vases of jonquills, the color scheme of yellow and green being carried out in the hot luncheon that was served after the Rook game. Mrs. J. H. McMath substituted for an absent member at this meeting.

First Photo of Princess Mary And Husband In Royal Wedding Clothes

Here is the first picture of Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles, attired in their Royal wedding clothes to be received in America. The photograph was taken just prior to the marriage ceremony at historical Westminster Abbey in London.

RAWSON-KITCHENS WEDDING.

On Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock the marriage of Miss Sarah Ermie Rawson and Mr. William Fletcher Rawson was beautifully celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. B. Lindsay on Sixteenth Avenue, South.

The drawing room where the ceremony was performed, was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and trailing smilax. An altar was arranged with palms and ferns and tall white pedestals with baskets of sweet peas and lighted with white candelabra.

Mrs. E. Z. Yeager, sister of the bride, had charge of the nuptial music and played the wedding march. Mr. Dan Walker sang "Beloved, It Is Morn" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee."

Miss Elaine Kitchens, also a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a dress of green satin trimmed with silver and carried a bouquet of sweet peas in varied colors.

Miss Josephine Sewell of Albany, and Miss Eloise Angel were the bridesmaids and Mrs. J. M. Rowe the bride's matron. They all were attired in charming costumes of orchid satin trimmed in silver with pretty garden hats filled with sweet peas suspended from their arms. These attendants wore bandages of silver leaves.

The flower girls were Mary Lou Miller and Jean Yeager and the ribbon bearers Bernice Bellamy and Wynedine Yeager. These little attendants all wore attractive frocks of pink taffeta and tulle.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. She was beautiful in her wedding gown of white satin trimmed with lace chiffon beaded in pearls, with court train lined with pale green veiled with chiffon.

Her veil was caught to her hair with orange blossoms and fell to the end of her train.

The groom was attended by Mr. Robert Underwood as best man and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Dilliard.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rawson left for a wedding trip which will include a visit to Atlanta and other places and upon their return will make their home in Birmingham.

Mrs. Rawson traveled in a cape suit of dark blue mulanette with gray accessories. —Age-Herald.

SUB DEB CLUB.

At the meeting of the Sub Deb club Friday afternoon a delightful hot luncheon was served by the hostess, Miss Little Mae Hodson.

Bridge was played at two tables, only club members being present.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The Junior Music Study club meeting, which was to have been held Saturday afternoon, was postponed on account of illness. The date and place of meeting will be announced later.

MUSIC APPRECIATION IN THE SCHOOL.

Today in the schools the Choicest Music is offered, first for Appreciation through Hearing, and second for Personal performance up to the limit of the child's ability compared with the early days of reading music by means of syllable and numbers how glorious it seems to have your children familiar with the works of the great masters to the point where they can prove the compositions and play or sing the leading motives.

A lack of sympathy and a failure to recognize and understand education in its broadest sense, a musician was not looked upon as an educator. However America first in the commercial world is making great strides in the world of art. We have here in America the finest music teachers of the world, they are here principally because of the great remuneration received and the field is exceedingly fertile. The idea of having to go abroad to complete a musical education has long ago been hung up in the scrap bag, for America's strides in arts are so progressive that Europe with this is turning its eyes this way—it seems that England does not know of America's progress.

The above statement regarding England is according to Dr. Trotter of London, who is now at Eastman-Eitels, America's receptivity.

Muratore has been called the successor of Caruso. Rather should he be proclaimed the successor of Jean de Reszke. —New York Evening Post

More Opera for America

Musical America gives an account of a prospected symphony orchestra to be shared by New Orleans, Atlanta and Birmingham, there is really no reason why several cities could not share an opera company and not be dependent on travelling organizations, or single fly-by-night performances by the Metropolitan or Chicago organizations in this section. The Dunbar organizations are favorably known, having such people as Will Stephens and Cora Tracy with them, who make "Robin Hood" and the "Serenaders" a wonderful performance.

Mrs. W. K. McNeill Organizes A Chorus

Mrs. W. K. McNeill, so popular among musicians, in fact with every one in the Twin Cities is launching an effort to organize a large chorus, her ambition is to have Mr. Alsopp of Birmingham to come and direct ambitious efforts. Mr. Alsopp is quite well known locally, having directed similar efforts for the old "Choral Club."

Mrs. C. T. Sewell is able to be up after a few days illness at her home on West Moulton Street.

Mrs. T. H. Alexander and son, Dave Almon, will leave Monday for Nashville, Tenn., to join Mr. Alexander who has accepted a position there. They have a wide circle of friends here who will regret their absence and wish them success in their new home.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB.

Mrs. S. W. Irwin entertained the Canal Street Rook club at her beautiful home on Canal street Friday afternoon.

After the presentation of the club prize to Mrs. Irwin and the guest prize to Mrs. Pat Brock, a salad course was served. Club member supplemented by Mrs. Pat Brock, Mrs. J. W. Clopton and Mrs. W. N. Hall enjoyed this meeting.

Mrs. Reed Rogers is improving after a week's illness at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ethel Moore, on Church street.

FRIDAY THIRTEEN.

Mrs. W. T. Watson entertained the members of the Friday Thirteen club and a few friends at the home of Mrs. Sara Jeffries on Canal street from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

After several games of bridge, the hostess served a delicious salad course. Mrs. Watson made highest score among the club members and was awarded the club prize, a fancy basket. Mrs. Leroy McEntire received the guest prize, having been the lucky contestant among the guests, who were: Mrs. W. M. Voorhies, Mrs. Robert Sheppard, Mrs. E. W. Godbey, Mrs. D. S. Echols, Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. Hardy Burt, Mrs. Hamill and Mrs. Leroy McEntire.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Morton as hostess.

STATE FEDERATION NEWS

President: Mrs. J. Brevard Jones, Cloverdale Road, Montgomery. Editor: Mrs. J. Walter Black, LeBon Avenue, Montgomery.

The Position of the Federation Regarding Muscle Shoals.

When the executive board met in January action was taken as favoring the adoption by congress of the Ford offer for Muscle Shoals. At that time the Ford offer was the only one definitely before the public. Following the suggestion of the executive board many clubs telegraphed or wrote their representatives urging prompt action. When the Alabama Power company made its offer, some question arose as to the binding nature of the previous action. During the last week in February a supplementary vote on this subject was taken by the president and corresponding secretary with the result that the 15 members of the executive board unanimously declared their adherence to the Ford offer, as opposed to any other made for the great water power development at the Shoals. It is believed by the officers of the federation that this truly represented the wishes of the Federated Clubs as a number of letters received from clubs urged more effort along the same line. At the same time, if action had not been taken prior to the Alabama Power company offer, it is probable that your president would have not suggested action as the federation has consistently refused to take a partisan view of any issue in the past.

The Alabama School for Trades and Industry.

In April last year the federation passed a resolution endorsing the work for the Alabama School of Trades and Industry to be established at Ragland. The plan is to establish at Ragland a school where a boy may be trained in a trade and may at the same time be given an opportunity to earn his living by his labor as he learns. It is the plan to give the poor white boy of Alabama as good an opportunity to equip himself for life as the negro boy has at Tuskegee. The land has been given for the school and many avenues of assistance will be open as soon as the school is established. The school, however, is not established and the only provision made is that an appropriation of $30,000 was made in the legislature of 1919 to be released as soon as $30,000 had been contributed by citizens. The farmers, the railroads, the shop industries generally in the state, the hotel men are all looking toward the establishment of such a school as a means of securing better workmen, and it has their hearty support. From a civic side the Exchange clubs of the state are deeply interested and have undertaken through their several branches to conduct a campaign in its behalf. Knowing of the interest of the Federated club in all matters pertaining to education especially in the matter of educating those who have been neglected, the Exchange clubs appealed to the federation president for co-operation. Knowing that many calls had already been made on the clubs for financial campaigns this year, the president referred the matter to her executive board who have voted almost unanimously that we should actively support the campaign of the Exchange clubs in whatever way we can do so. The plan for our co-operation has not as yet been made but with this assurance from the board it will not be long before the clubs hear definitely what our responsibilities in the matter will be.

Citizenship Day—Fourth of July

How many clubs, we wonder, are planning to have a great Citizenship Day on July 4th? It is not too early to plan for it. Last year it was put on wonderfully in Georgia, our neighboring state. In Alabama clubs thought it was too hot. Is it hotter in Alabama than in Georgia? Suggestions for the Citizenship Day may be secured from the president of the federation or more definite and fuller ones from the federation headquarters at 415 Maryland building, Washington. The following letter is suggestive:

My Dear Madame President:

At the board meeting of the General Federation held recently in Chicago, the state presidents were asked to tell, in three minutes, at the biennial some definite service that their state federation had rendered, taking the keynote "Women as a Working Power."

I am writing to ask your assistance for Citizenship Day. If you can see your way clear in your talk president's evening to touch on what your state has actually done, or has made definite plans to do in this line, you will give a great impetus to the whole movement.

After carefully looking over the reports received, I am dismayed to discover how many clubs have failed to grasp the central idea—the honoring of our native-born sons and daughters, who during the last twelve months have become 21 years of age and at the coming election will cast their first vote. Some clubs spent all their energy in securing the attendance of the foreign-born. We want both groups of new citizens.

There will soon be ready at headquarters additional programs for Citizenship Day, compiled by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, 682 W. Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga. now chairman of Division of Citizenship Training. Yours cordially, (Signed) Anna J. H. Pennypacker.

Notice—Club Presidents!

A few months ago the contents, including library and buildings of the Girl's Industrial school in Birmingham, was burned. The house is being rebuilt and will be ready for occupancy soon. A call has come to the A. F. M. C. to aid in refurbishing by gifts of books, and the committee on literature has been given the pleasant task of promoting this. The first week in April is designated as "Book-Shower" week when each club in the federation is asked to respond by gifts of wholesome books suitable to the ages of girls from 6 to 16—who are inmates of the home. Send books to "The State Training School for Girls—Mount Pinson, Alabama." This will be a valuable service to one of our most worthy institutions.

On Tuesday afternoon Miss Elizabeth Tabor was hostess to the young People's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church. Following the devotional the president presided over a short business session. A report on Mexico was rendered by Misses Thelma Bennett, Marjorie Pointer and Vivian Fleming. Next was the presentation of the roll of honor flyers, awarded this society at the annual conference recently held at Jasper, and the many good things brought back by the delegate gave fresh determination to the members to make 1932 the best year yet.

The next hostess will be Miss Thelma Bennett. Meeting adjourned with sentence prayers.

A delicious salad course was served during the social hour.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Ninth St. Methodist Church entertained with a birthday party, at the home of Mrs. V. H. Dixon, Seventh Avenue, South, Tuesday night, March 7. Mrs. G. H. Wiggins presided over the table on which a beautiful basket was placed, and as the guest entered their birthday offering was dropped into it. A very pleasing program was rendered. Piano solos were rendered by Miss Stella Curl and Miss Ruth Stroup. Miss Curl also gave two violin solos accompanied by Mrs. Frank Cobb and Miss Ruth Stroup. Mrs. A. J. Moore and Mrs. Fred Thompson sang a duet. Miss Burton and five of her expression pupils, Ruth Stroup, Fay Mauss, Freddie Eaves, Francis Eaves and Lisle Bell Hammons gave beautiful readings which were enjoyed by all. After the program was rendered light refreshments were served to the hundred guest present by members of the missionary society.

Noted Reader In Splendid Program

Ruby Page Ferguson (Mrs. A. Ewer) the dramatic interpreter, appeared last night at the Albany High School auditorium under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher's Association. She recited "A Bill of Divorcement" the play that has been running in New York city, longer and more successfully than any other dramatic offering presented in the largest theater city in the world, for a number of seasons.

Miss Rosa Lee Walston presented the artist, in a highly appreciative manner saying of Mrs. Ewer, that she knew how to feel, think, that she knew, and that she had an appreciative mind. Miss Walston's words were proven—had any critic been present who demanded proof. But the reader kept every one so busy following her wonderful story, and the many arguments stated for and against divorce under certain circumstances, that few if any of the large audience took time to make a measure of the genius or ability of the speaker. It is safe to say that Mrs. Ewer has never been surpassed on a local platform, especially when it is considered what an intricate and thoughtful production she attempted and successfully attempted to reproduce for her hearers.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Good Night Stories

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

DOTTY MEETS MRS. BAT'S COUSIN.

MY, how Dotty did squeal when the queer little creature flew near her head.

"I hate those horrid old things," she cried, putting her hands over her head. "They carry bugs under their wings."

"Ho-ho-ho!" laughed a merry voice, and the object that caused all the commotion settled on the fence post beside Dotty. "Do you think I carry bugs under my wings, do you? Ho-ho-ho—but that's a joke on you! You don't need to keep your arms over your head. I haven't any bugs to drop on you. My, but that strikes me as funny," and the queer little creature opened his mouth and laughed so heartily that Dotty could see every sharp tooth in it.

"And I don't carry bugs under my wings," asked Dotty, coming closer to the funny little creature.

"Well, in the first place," replied Mrs. Bat, "I haven't any wings. I fly, yes, but if you'll notice, it's not real wings that help me through the air, but this thin web of tissue which grows from my body out to the tips of my two arms. Why, look here. I have the same number of fingers you have, and see—my thumb is different from my other fingers." She held her hands so Dotty could get a good look at them.

"Sure enough, the thumbs were short and quite thick, but instead of having nails they had claws or hooves."

"I use these hooks when I'm not flying," she said. "I employ them to hang up for a rest."

"Well, you don't look as if you'd harm any one," laughed Dotty. "This so-called I always feel like running when I see one of you fly toward me."

"You might talk if you will," said Mrs. Bat, "but I see my cousin."

"I might talk if you will," said Mrs. Bat, "but I see my cousin."

"I might talk if you will," said Mrs. Bat, "but I see my cousin."

"Ho-Ho-Ho!"

funny-looking creature. "And I said she'd have cause to get nervous if she saw you flying around her head."

"Indeed, I should be frightened," Flying Fox, as Mrs. Bat's cousin is called.

She measured nearly five feet across the wings. She wore a reddish-brown suit, and had a head just like that of a fox. If Mrs. Flying Fox hadn't spoken, Dotty would have taken her for a great big fur rug, for when sailing through the air Mrs. Flying Fox looked just like a rug. Her body seemed flat, and the skin which ran from her front legs to her hind legs was a great deal like that of Mrs. Flying Squirrel.

"You know," Mrs. Bat whispered to Dotty, "my cousin would be fine if she wasn't so bad-mannered. See all that fruit protected by baskets—yes, over there, growing in those fields. Well, that's because my cousin steals every bit of fruit she can get her claws on. Why, the farmers hate her terribly, she destroys so many things. It's shameful, but it's true."

Mrs. Flying Fox didn't please Dotty in the least, and she was certainly glad when Mrs. Bat invited her to climb back on her wings, and they once more landed in Dotty's front yard. But Dotty thanked Mrs. Bat, and ran into the house to tell her mama what she had just found out.

To Remove Paint From Cloth.
To remove paint from cloth, lay a pad of blotting paper on the side of the material on which the paint fell, and rub the other side gently with a soft piece of flannel dipped in chloroform or benzol, both of which are paint solvents, as the paint dissolves it naturally passes into the most absorbent material in contact with it—which is the blotting paper—not into the adjacent cloth. Deep stains can be completely removed by this method.

FLYING SQUADRON CLOSES VISIT HERE; LARGE ATTENDANCE

The three days visitation of the Flying Squadron closed Friday night with the largest attendance recorded at any of the speakings. The last session, as well as others, was held in the First Methodist church of Decatur, and Dr. John D. Wallace presided and introduced the speakers.

Oliver B. Stewart, the successor of Governor Handley as director of the Squadron and for nearly 40 years a valiant fighter in the ranks of the "drys," spoke preceding Miss Norma Brown, a young woman minister of the Christian church of Bloomingdale, Illinois.

By contrast as to appearance and age, there was a wide difference between the two speakers, but the character of their speeches was precisely the same. True to ministerial procedure, Miss Brown had a "firstly," "secondly" and "thirdly"; but the young preacher did not say "brethren and sisters" as the veterans of the pulpit generally do. Instead, she made a straight from the shoulder, "take it or leave it" argument that denied all reply or rebuttal. Dr. Stewart, than whom there is not a more distinguished living proponent of prohibition, managed three presidential campaigns, has been the "brains of the movement," as an editorial writer for 20 years, and is now editor of the National Enquirer. He made his appeal against the "wets" on the firm conviction as he reiterated again and again, that "if the wets do what they say they wish to do in the way they say they will do it, it will mean the destruction of the American constitution and the end of the last stand of Republican form of government."

These familiar with Daniel Webster's printed addresses defending the federal constitution were reminded of Webster's great speeches as Dr. Stewart proceeded. Not the first point but one of the shrewdest ones made by the speaker was that "any congressman who would seek to break down the supporting laws of the eighteenth amendment after he had sworn to defend the constitution is an ordinary everyday perjurer."

"And," declared the speaker, "we could have a few such in congress, as we no doubt do have, and still live as a nation, but if the majority of congress should become such perjurers as to undermine the constitution by voting to repeal the Volstead act, you will have to agree with me, that our liberties and our country are gone."

Dr. Stewart upheld the positions taken by all prohibitionists who know, namely that the eighteenth amendment is obsolete, without such vitalizing legislation as is contained in the Volstead act.

Miss Brown first discussed the unavailability of liquor from a business and economic standpoint, then from a civic and moral standpoint, and thirdly, from religious standpoint. In effect she declared that it was inconceivable that God should have any other thought in His mind than the destruction of the liquor business, root and branch. Near the close of her address, which was a highly finished piece of oratory and inspirational appeal, the speaker quoted John G. Holland's well known poem, beginning "God give us men," and ending "Men, run crowned, who live above the crowd in public duty and private thinking."

Dr. Stewart pledged solemnly, despite the fact that he was tired out with the fight against the corrupt whiskey devils, would take the next train for Chicago, never to make another prohibition speech if they would come to him and promise never to seek again to undermine the constitution by seeking to bring back wine and beer, and later whiskey and the concomitant evils that will return with the saloon.

The squadron is entirely dependent on voluntary subscriptions, and considering the rainy weather encountered here, it was liberally supported, both as to attendance and money pledges.

Railroad Briefs About Town

Cursing ones luck after the arrival of Satan is the theme of a poster at the shops. A mere man is represented as doing the swearing, but he was a little late, as by his carelessness a great weight dropped on his foot, crushing same until he was an invalid for a season. Another sign points to the danger of handling the new fashioned welding machines with greasy hands, as grease causes the high explosives used in the new machine, to explode with great violence. The facts are not available, but the general impression prevails that a marked let up in accidents is about due. As noted before the new concrete floors that are gradually spreading over all the shops in the big enclosure, will tend to prevent accidents—as they will furnish such an excellent "understanding."

Luther Handley's Boy Thought Straight.

Luther Handley of the Round House has a school boy—never mind his name, who thinks straight, as do most people until they learn to think crooked later in life. Young Luther, as we will call him, is quite familiar with dog life, for does he not help Luther, Sr. care for their kennel of blooded dogs? So when the Parent-Teacher's Association, sold "hot dogs" at the West Side Public School, young Luther's little sister wanted one, to which little brother replied "You don't need one; you can have on of our puppies."

C. A. Dunnivant on the War-Path
C. A. Dunnivant, Round House foreman, is on the war path for the scalp of whatever may be to blame for the mud bed now along Fifth Avenue, West, where the road used to be.

"If a fire started out our avenue," said Mr. Dunnivant, "would the fire engine be able to get to it? It would not. And besides how could I ever sell my place when Ford comes? I am back of what I say and don't care who knows it," concluded the Westsider.

Speaking At The Gates

The importance of the location of one's treasures was impressed in an address Friday noon at the shop address delivered by Rev. Orr, of New Albany, Miss. who is holding a revival at the Associate Reform Presbyterian church in South Albany. Dr. Orr was introduced by Walter C. Nollau, General Secretary of the R. R. Y. M. C. A. and at the conclusion of the address Rev. R. T. Kerr, led in prayer. The speaker reminded his hearers of the scripture advice not to lay up treasure on the earth, but in Heaven. He said wealth, such as houses and automobiles is apt to perish any day. The cases of two men—one a believer the other a disbeliever—were taken up; both had wealth only to lose it. The believer kept on about his duties, but the unbeliever killed himself. The men were reminded little decisions made from day to day, decided beyond recall where men were putting their treasure—whether they chose the wealth of immortal character—immortal life or desired only to get by any way and any how, regardless of the rights of others.

AUBURN NEWS

AUBURN, Ala., March 11—(Special)—Of all the concrete stories of results being accomplished in the general agricultural development in Alabama none are more interesting or more immediate in producing financial returns than are those of poultry club work conducted under the direction of the county home demonstration agents. In every Alabama county having a home demonstration agent this work is in progress. Its success is shown by the following extracts taken from the weekly reports of the county field workers:

Escambia County, Miss. Lucile Thomas, Agent: "The poultry association is growing strong. It appeals to the men and boys just as much as to the women and girls."

Montgomery County, Mrs. Mamie C. Thornton, Agent: "Part of the week was spent in delivering 8,000 eggs to the club girls and giving them instructions in the production and management of poultry."

Geneva County, Miss. Bertha Lee Ferguson, Agent: "On a recent visit to the Slocumb club I found the poultry club members ready to order their eggs and get started toward successful poultry work."

Covington County, Mrs. Mary S. Shook, Agent: "Wednesday I took three chicks of chickens to the girls at Carman's Hall Wednesday night, business of interest being transacted and a number of speeches were made."

Elijah Turner of the car department, and J. Y. Toon of the machine shop were among the shopmen who attended the "Flying Squadron" speaking at the First Methodist church 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday.

the Stanley club, taught them how to construct their poultry equipment, finding them greatly interested in modern poultry equipment."

Limestone County, Miss. Ila Dean Griffin, Agent: "Eggs for hatching, which were ordered from Kentucky breeders, began arriving this week, and 500 were set by Saturday. Our poultry and egg project is extremely popular. We are working toward standardization and expect outstanding results with our marketing plan."

Colbert County, Miss. Bennie F. King, Agent: "We have ordered to date 154 purebred chickens—all of which being the White Plymouth Rock breed. We have also placed 700 White Plymouth Rock eggs, and expect to continue placing them until the season is over."

Landerdale County, Mrs. M. A. Sprattling, Agent: "Our first shipment of 1,400 eggs arrived and was distributed this week."

Cullman County, Miss. Mary Wigley, Agent: "On Thursday 720 eggs for hatching purposes arrived, and in spite of the unfavorable weather they were called for and delivered within a few hours—indicating the intense interest in better poultry in Cullman county."

The above were the outstanding results of only a few days. Such work has been in progress for some time and will continue until the hatching period is over, following which stress will be placed on care and management of poultry along with other work.

Solicitor Almon Returns Home

District Solicitor D. C. Almon returned from Huntsville Saturday, after completing his duties at a four weeks' term of the circuit court, presided over by Circuit Judge R. C. Brickell. Mr. Almon reports a splendid court with much business transacted. Fifty-eight convictions were effected, 25 being sent to the penitentiary, six to the coal mines, the balance pleading guilty and paying fines.

Clemency Looms For Tom Lambert

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 11.—By unanimous vote of the state board of pardons Friday afternoon, Tom Lambert, sentenced to be hanged in Jefferson county next Friday for the murder of Martha Gilliland, was recommended to Governor Kilby for the commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment. Governor Kilby received the file in the case during the afternoon and will announce a decision during the next few days.

The vote of the board of pardons followed a public hearing of the case, during which prominent citizens of Birmingham urged clemency and presented recommendations from the trial judge, prosecuting attorney, and other citizens of Birmingham. The committee which presented the case to the board called on Governor Kilby following the decision of the board and urged him to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

DECATUR COMPANY TO PLACE BRANCHES IN 2 MORE CITIES

J. W. Clifton, president of the Decatur Ice Cream and Creamery company, has returned from Scottsboro where he completed arrangements for a branch at that point. Woodall Brothers, who have a large cold storage plant, and supply Scottsboro with ice, will be in charge of the station. With J. W. Woodall in charge the success of the business is assured. A complete cream station will be operated and cream will be received from the farmers and paid for on same basis that it is at the home plant.

A number of farmers are already shipping cream from Jackson county to Decatur and with the establishment of a cream station in Scottsboro where they can sell their butterfat in small quantities the farmers will rapidly take up dairying as they will appreciate the cash income from this source every two weeks in the year. Mr. Clifton states that the bankers and business men of Scottsboro are very much pleased with the establishment of a cream station at that point and will co-operate with the farmers to the fullest extent.

A branch has also been opened in Athens and will be operated by the Oak Leaf Dairy with R. S. Beatty in charge. Mr. Beatty has been in business in Athens for a number of years and operation under his management insures success. The Athens station will serve Rogersville and all adjoining territory. Mr. Clifton states that the farmers all over the Tennessee Valley are becoming more interested in producing butterfat and by establishing stations convenient for them they will soon be producing butterfat equal to the Tennessee farmers.

The local creamery is now shipping large quantities of butter to Birmingham and other points and expect to increase their output materially within the next few months.

SWEAT PAROLED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 11.—(Special)—Noah Sweat, convicted of manufacturing liquor in Etowah county, was granted a parole by Governor Kilby today conditioned on his good conduct in the future. Sweat was convicted July 8, 1921, and given an indeterminate sentence of from one to three years. The parole was recommended by the board of pardons.

GRADE CROSSINGS TO BE ELIMINATED WHEN POSSIBLE IN NEW ROADS CHAIN

Positive Orders Against Crossings Are Given By Federal Bureau

CHANGES NECESSARY IN PLAN FOR ROUTES

Value of Human Lives Cannot Be Measured By Dollars Standard

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 11.—Positive orders have been given to the state highway department by the federal bureau of public roads for the elimination of railway grade crossings wherever possible on the system of federal and state aid highways now being planned in Alabama and the highway department today announced that the orders would be complied with to the letter.

In many cases it will be necessary to construct roads under the railroads or over the railroads and in many others the routes of the federal aid roads will be so changed as to eliminate entirely. "The value of a life cannot be computed in dollars and cents and it is not the purpose of the highway department to save money by such work but to save human lives," said the statement of the department issued today.

On one road in Pike county the highway department succeeded in eliminating 12 grade crossings on the 17-mile stretch last year and on the Birmingham-Montgomery highway as now planned every grade crossing between Birmingham and Midway will be eliminated.

"The United States bureau of public roads has notified all state highway departments that grade crossings must be eliminated wherever possible on the federal highway system," said the announcement of the highway department. "The prime object of the department's policy in eliminating grade crossings on federal aid roads is the saving of human lives. This policy probably will involve increased expense of construction in the case of some roads but it is believed this is justified by the saving of human lives."

"The public generally will approve of this stand taken by the bureau. The state highway department of Iowa has kept a newspaper clipping record of automobile accidents for six years. This record shows 376 people were killed in railroad grade crossing accidents."

"During the year 1921, 203 automobiles were struck by trains and 12 trains were struck by automobiles with a total of 202 people injured. In December of the same year 18 automobiles were struck by trains. If this many grade crossing accidents occurred in one state last year the question naturally asked is how many occurred in the entire United States. The writer has been unable to find any reliable statistics on the subject. If true figures could be obtained giving the number of fatalities it would be appalling."

"The state highway department of Alabama is in full accord with the bureau of public roads in its effort to make the highways safe avenues of travel and expects, in its large program of work, to eliminate every railroad grade crossing possible and in this work it looks for hearty co-operation from the railroads. On one road in Pike county, 17 miles in length, constructed with state and federal aid last year, 12 grade crossings were eliminated. On the Birmingham-Montgomery highway, the location of which is now completed from Birmingham to Marbury, every Louisville and Nashville grade crossing will be eliminated."

"The value of a life cannot be computed in dollars and cents and it is not the purpose of the highway department to save money by such work but to save human lives."

Infection Of Hog Cholera Stopped

What threatened to be a widespread infection of hog cholera was nipped in its incipency by the prompt measures of inoculation administered by County Agent W. G. Johnson at Hartsville. The infection was discovered southeast of town about three miles and due to the prompt measures adopted not a hog was lost, and some that were infected were saved also.

Mr. Johnson desires it to be known that he stands ready to respond to any point in the county and makes the request that where cholera or any signs of it shows up he be communicated with at once. Do not take any chances, is the request of the county agent.

U. S. FINDS A WAY TO PREVENT LIQUOR FRAUDS IN PERMITS

"Forgeries and alterations of liquor withdrawal permits must be stopped!" says Prohibition Director Haynes.

And stopped they will be, for the government has just adopted a means of protection that is expected to thoroughly check off wholesale liquor frauds by permit-juggling.

The liquor permit swindler for many months has been as much of an annoyance to federal prohibition enforcement agents as check swindlers for years have been to banks and depositors.

Permits have been altered after leaving official hands to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The practice has been one of the most easily penetrated loopholes for the crafty bootlegger.

In a desperate effort to circumvent the clever bootlegging swindlers, government officials recently conducted a lengthy investigation into the merits of scores of plans and contrivances to thwart license alteration.

At last the prohibition enforcement service has found a solution of the problem that promises to block license forgeries. This is the employment of special permit-writing machines. Half a hundred of these have just been made for the use of issuers of liquor withdrawal permits.

These machines, while ingenious and thoroughly efficient, are small and simple in operation. They resemble a check protector made by the same manufacturer and employ the most modern protective principles of the safest possible check writer. The company making these devices for the government has guaranteed not to manufacture any other machine of exactly the same type.

The words of the text stamped by the machines on the permits are diagonal. This permits writing more words on each line than any other machine can do, and prevents the insertion of interlinear words, which has been a common practice among permit forgers. The most important feature of the machine, however, is that the amount of liquor to be withdrawn is perforated entirely through the paper and also lacerated, all in one operation. Alteration of permits is as impossible as alteration of checks written with the same machine.

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md. "My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 63 Dilleys St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

REMINISCENCES

By J. ADLAI WEST

There are some portions of the country along the line of the Louisville and Nashville railroad between here and Birmingham that for scenic beauty and rugged setting just as the hand of nature left it, is a strong rival of many places that are noted as models for scenic grandeur.

There is a stretch of country located south of here at a point where the disastrous wreck at bridge 40 many years ago occurred. This country at this point consists of rugged hills, deep ravines, high bridges, great cliffs and bluffs lined all along the way with thick growth of pines, that attracts the eye of the passer-by on the trains at once. At this point where the wreck occurred the company have during the last few years built a fine reinforced concrete bridge that spans the chasm below, being over a hundred feet from top to bottom of the ravine.

At this point is near the source of Flint creek, that has its beginning among the hills that abound there, and further down the valley is reinforced by the waters of Mill creek. By the time it reaches the valley below the greatest creek of the county is formed. Looking up from these deep ravines there are fine plateaus or table lands which are level, all covered with thick pine growth.

Near this spot is located "dead mans rock," just why so-called is not known. It is a rock that extends well over the right of way of the line of road traversing that section. In the streams that abound in that locality there are fine fish, and this resort is frequently visited by lovers of the sport. Mountain trout, speckles and sun perch are the varieties that abound.

The coves that abound at the foothills of this mountain are as rich as can be found at any point in the country, and there is scarcely ever a time but that fine crops of corn and wheat are grown there.

Many years ago it was the custom of the railroad officials at Birmingham to visit this spot and have the special car sidetracked at Wilhites, and remain for a period of from two to three days. W. M. Newbold, a former superintendent of the road was always a visitor there in each fishing season.

There are many fine springs abounding on this mountain as it continues its circle toward the northwest. At a point on its crest further west from the point mentioned above is located what is known as the Summer House spring. It was at this point many years ago some of the settlers would go each season with their families and spend several weeks at a time in camp there. The water is strong chalybeate, being strongly impregnated with salts and iron. Their medicinal virtues being held in high regard by those who thus yearly made visits there.

The water comes forth from a large bluff located at the pinnacle of the mountain, and it is quite difficult to gain access to it. Under the bluff and about five feet under the large rock that hangs over sheltering the spring, the water runs in a stream about the size of a large lead pencil, forcing its way through a formation made by the minerals accumulating on the rock. The size of the stream is never changed in any conditions of weather, remaining the same in extreme wet weather as in droughty seasons.

In later years many have gone to this spring to get quantities of water for sick ones, and it is said to be possessed of curative qualities.

Further to the westward, located at the foothills of this same spur of mountain, is located other springs that had been the spot of frequent gatherings, such as picnics, a day in the woods, etc. One spring particularly is known as blowing spring. The location of this spring is at the foot of a large mountain, and gets its name from the fact that there is a constant blowing issuing from the mouth of the spring continually. For 20 feet or more away from where the water rushes out the leaves on the bushes are kept in constant motion. The water is freestone and cold. It is said that fresh meat will keep well even in the hottest weather if kept in contact with this cold air.

Another fine spring is located at what is known as Cole Springs, east of Falkville. It issues likewise from a mountain source, and it comes from a cave of sufficient size to admit passage to some extent under the ground. Those living in that locality keep milk and butter there in summer, and merchants at the place keep their cold drinks in this cave, and no ice is necessary to keep the beverage in the finest condition.

These act as nature's summer ice houses and go a long way toward taking care of perishable products when the weather is hot.

HARTSELLE BUREAU OF ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY

Leave items of general interest, including social, personals, current happenings, at People's Drug Company.

The produce business is growing by leaps and bounds. Over 500 cases each week are bought and shipped from this point. One firm here has an assembling point at Decatur, where between 900 and 1,000 cases are handled each week. In addition to this, large quantities of poultry are sold here and there is never a day but that some kind of produce is shipped from this point. Hartsville is a great shipping point. There is annually shipped from here millions of feet of lumber expressed in lumber and logs, cross ties, cedar and chestnut poles. Cedar posts are also shipped in great quantities. There are many saw mills scattered over the country and the product of these mills is sold to the larger mills here, taken to the planer and made into the finished product.

Deputies Wiley and Stewart of the sheriff's force, captured a still Friday morning about eight miles east of Hartsville. With it was destroyed a large quantity of beer and other material with which whiskey is made. A gallon of manufactured product was also confiscated. The deputies of the county have been extremely active in raiding stills, and many are to their credit during the past 12 months.

Everybody turned out Friday night and attended the tacky party held at the city school building, under the auspices of the P. T. association. The crowds presented a curious appearance as they sallied forth all dressed up in the style of ye olden days. Many were seen wearing the old hoop skirt a relic of other days. Dresses that are now considered entirely antiquated were brought forth from the chests and wardrobes and much millinery that had taken a long rest adorned the heads of many who participated in the good natured gathering. Many fines were imposed on those who failed to put on the proper regalia, and came too much dressed up in modern attire. After the uproar had subsided to some extent, readings, music and song was featured to the enjoyment of all. A nice sum was realized to be used in furthering the work of the P. T. association.

Mrs. J. H. Corsbie returned home Friday after a two weeks' visit to her daughters in the Twin Cities.

Ed Jefferies, of Moulton, has opened up a stock of general merchandise in the building formerly occupied by Clyde Sharpe.

Leon Sharpley visited friends in the Twin Cities Friday evening.

At least three cars are being offered by the merchants of Hartsville as premiums. The merchants comprising the booster club are offering prizes in the effort to tempt the dollars to come from their hiding places. Some are offering a car on their own responsibility, and others have joined in with others in the offering. Merchants report a good business for the time of year and hope for better times in the near future.

Owing to the extreme wet weather which has prevailed for the past month there has been very few sales of potatoes for planting or hudding. The Irish potato crop will be late as result, and many merchants are carrying large stocks of Irish potatoes which ordinarily would have had good sale on same.

The fishing sportsmen of Hartsville have gotten their fishing rigs in shape and everything is ready to touch and go when the waters recede to a point that the sport can be enjoyed. There are many fishermen here who yearly try all the waters in this vicinity in the effort to land the finny tribe. Camping parties are an annual event.

Preparations are on at the Morgan county high school getting ready for commencement week in May. There will be several graduates from this institution the present term, though not as numerous as last season. This

Why Mrs. Brown Bought a SELLERS

"The Best Servant in Your House"

THREE things led Mrs. Brown, who had looked at all types of kitchen cabinets, to choose a Sellers.

One, was the beauty. Two, was the strong construction. Three, was the wonderful and almost unbelievable convenience.

As Mrs. Brown said, "It's almost unreal. You feel just like you had a servant with you all the time to hand you things and make the work easy."

Sellers Mastercraft

"FIFTEEN FAMOUS FEATURES" That Make Kitchen Work Easy

In the Sellers, convenience has been made the great ideal. Thirty years have been spent in its perfection. Here you find such features as the Automatic Lowering Flour Bin—the Double Base Shelf Extender—the Extending Table Drawer Section, which makes it easy to get anything from the big table drawers even when the work table is fully extended and covered with work things, the Secret Silverware Drawer—the Dust and Mouse-Proof Base-Top—the Sanitary, pure white Porcelain Work Table—the Ant-Proof Casters, etc. No other cabinet gives you all these conveniences. Yet the Sellers costs no more. Come in and see a demonstration. We arrange terms to suit any income.
